

My Response to Lou Pritchett's Letter to President Obama

©2009 Earl Jackson

I do not send chain letters to other people, and I do not like to receive them either, because I find them annoying and in most cases mindless. I also do not believe that ministers of the gospel, pastors, Christian preachers or anyone else called to a sacred vocation, should be politically involved. “The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will” (Prov. 21: 1). God is quite capable of doing what He wants with the hearts of rulers, or anyone else for that matter. Ministers, and churches, of all people, should know this, and be content to let God do what He wants to do. We need to do what God has called us to do, and that means we need to stay out of politics. God has no more Theocracy on earth, and there are no more David's or Solomon's to rule as political monarch ministers. Godly men, need to be godly, and that involves being uninvolved with the things of the world (Col. 3: 1-2; 1Jn. 2: 15; Jn. 15: 19; James 4: 4; Lk. 16: 13). We are sojourners, strangers and pilgrims passing through this world, but we are not of it.

So now that you know that I am opposed to political involvement on the part of churches and ministers, I will tell you why I have decided to respond to this chain letter by Lou Pritchett. Letters like this do not help the cause of Christ, or the cause of conservatives, or the cause of truth, because they are: 1) not Christian. 2) not conservative. 3) not true. Because they are such an insult to normal intelligence I feel led to expose them by providing this example. I am not being political by exposing the lies in a letter that was sent to me and to thousands of people like me.

Here is Mr. Pritchett's letter, as I received it.

AN OPEN LETTER TO PRESIDENT OBAMA

Dear President Obama:

You are the thirteenth President under whom I have lived and unlike any of the others, you truly scare me. You scare me because after months of exposure, I know nothing about you.

I do not know how you paid for your expensive Ivy League education and your upscale lifestyle and housing with no visible signs of support. You scare me because you did not spend the formative years of youth growing up in America and culturally you are not an American.

- * You have never run a company or met a payroll.
- * You have never had military experience, thus don't understand it at its core.
- * You lack humility and 'class', always blaming others. You scare me because for over half your life you have aligned yourself with radical extremists who hate America and you refuse to publicly denounce these radicals who wish to see America fail.

- * You are a cheerleader for the 'blame America' crowd and deliver this message abroad.
- * You want to change America to a European style country where the government sector dominates instead of the private sector. You scare me because you want to replace our health care system with a government controlled one.
- * You prefer 'wind mills' to responsibly capitalizing on our own vast oil, coal and shale reserves.
- * You want to kill the American capitalist goose that lays the golden egg which provides the highest standard of living in the world.
- * You have begun to use 'extortion' tactics against certain banks and corporations.
- * Your own political party shrinks from challenging you on your wild and irresponsible spending proposals.
- * You will not openly listen to or even consider opposing points of view from intelligent people.
- * You falsely believe that you are both omnipotent and omniscient.
- * You scare me because the media gives you a free pass on everything you do.
- * You demonize and want to silence the Limbaughs, Hannitys, O'Reillys, and Becks who offer opposing, conservative points of view.
- * You prefer controlling over governing.

Finally, you scare me because if you serve a second term I will probably not feel safe in writing a similar letter in 8 years.

Lou Pritchett

The letter opens with the statement that Pritchett is scared of the 13th president that he has lived under. He is scared because he knows nothing about the president. This should really require no comment. Pritchett knows nothing about the president because he has done no research. Had he done a little research he would be able to know quite a lot about the president. He did not make it into the Whitehouse riding on a stream of unknowability, secrecy and hidden mysteries as Mr. Pritchett suggests. If Mr. Pritchett is so scared, it is due to his own misinformed ignorance.

“I do not know how you paid for your expensive Ivy League education and your upscale lifestyle and housing with no visible signs of support”. Not that you need to know, Mr. Pritchett, but have you ever heard of “student loans” and “scholarships”? Have you ever heard of “mortgages”, “car loans”, “credit”, “money in the bank”, or other forms of “the American capitalist goose that lays the golden egg which provides the highest standard of living in the world”? If you are going to attack the president for living the American Capitalist highest standard of living in the world, then you should learn about how these things enable people to “pay for an expensive Ivy League education” and obtain and maintain an “upscale lifestyle and housing“. Because these golden egg factors are not visible to you, does not give you the right to slander the president out of both sides of your face. If it is wrong for the president to use the American Capitalist Golden Egg System, then it ought to be wrong for everybody else including you. Just because you are ignorant of how he did it, gives you no authority to impinge him for it. This is America, and the fact that He is an American Capitalist Golden Egg user should not make you afraid. It should make you happy, because he obviously knows more about how the system works than you do.

* You have never run a company or met a payroll. This of course is a good thing because we have a president and not a corrupted corporate executive, or a payroll secretary. These things are not qualifications for the office, Mr. Pritchett. You are obviously trying to swindle somebody’s intelligence and bring them down to your irrational level.

* You have never had military experience, thus don't understand it at its core. The only way to understand the military is to have military experience? There are a hell of a lot of people in this country who therefore “don’t understand it at its core”. I hope you are not so naïve as to believe that everyone has to experience something in order to know about it. This is a fallacy. You don’t understand the president because you have not had presidential “experience”. That explains your ignorance.

* You lack humility and 'class', always blaming others. You scare me because for over half your life you have aligned yourself with radical extremists who hate America and you refuse to publicly denounce these radicals who wish to see America fail. What are you attacking here? Humility? Class? Alignment with extremists? Refusal to denounce? Your thoughts are clearly all over the map. “Humility” is something quite arbitrary, and you cannot see the presidents heart. You haven’t experienced it, so you cannot know (see above)about it. “Class“? Have you experienced that? I doubt it, so you can’t know about that either. “Alignment with extremists“? Well certainly if the president has experienced this, He must know all about it. I think that kind of knowledge is very valuable. He obviously knows more about the extremists than you, because you don’t understand them “at their core“. How can you criticize them and him, when you know nothing? “You refuse to denounce these radicals who wish to see America fail“? Who are you referring to? America is failing. America has failed. These radicals wishes have long ago come true. You are at least twenty years behind the times. They are no longer wishing. They have achieved their desires. There is nothing to denounce, except people like you who are living in a fantasy land, accusing others of things you know nothing about, because you have not experienced it and known it to the core.

* You are a cheerleader for the 'blame America' crowd and deliver this message abroad. This must mean that America is above blame, that we always do right, and never make mistakes. Right? If you cannot see Americas wrongs, because you have never experienced them, then you cannot know what the president is doing or saying about them. I got news for you. We deserve to be blamed for everything we have done which is wrong. The Bible maxim that “Pride goeth before a fall and a haughty spirit before destruction”, applies to countries as well as people. America should never be so haughty and proud that she cannot admit her mistakes. This is a perfect example of you talking out of both sides of your face. You accuse Obama of “lack of humility”, but you want him to refuse to admit our mistakes. Which is it? Do you want “humility“? or Do you want “arrogant Imperialism“? Which is it, Mr. Pritchett?

* You want to change America to a European style country where the government sector dominates instead of the private sector. You scare me because you want to replace our health care system with a government controlled one. I think they should name a new medical and psychological condition after you. They should call it “Omniphobia” because you are afraid of everything! Are you saying that there is something wrong with every “European Style” country in Europe? Are you saying that every “European Style” country in Europe, is dominated by the “government sector”? What is a sector? Have you experienced a “sector”? Have you experienced a “government sector“? Do you “know it at its core”? Or are you ignorant of it, because you have not experienced it? How about a “Private sector”? What’s that? Have you experienced one of those? How about domination? How do you know what that is? Have you experienced it? Do you know it at its core? Do you practice domination? If not, how can you identify it? It appears that because you know nothing at its core, you are unqualified to speak about anything. You need education. The problem is not government control of healthcare. We already have that! What we need is better government control of healthcare. But in your case, the immediate need seems to be education reform. We need laws to protect us from morons like you. Some sort of education should be required for all “American Style“ citizens. It needs to be government controlled, government mandated and punishable by imprisonment, death or both in the event of non-compliance. You are more dangerous with your ignorance than any “radical extremist”, because at least they know what they are talking about and have experienced it “to the core”.

* You prefer 'wind mills' to responsibly capitalizing on our own vast oil, coal and shale reserves. What’s wrong with windmills? They are quiet. They are clean. They are cost effective. They ultimately offer free energy. What’s wrong with that? Have we not “responsibly capitalized on our own vast oil, coal, and shale reserves”? We’ve been exploiting our reserves since the 1800’s. Do you think that they are inexhaustible? Wind is inexhaustible, isn’t it? Come on Mr. Pritchett? You can’t be serious!

* You want to kill the American capitalist goose that lays the golden egg which provides the highest standard of living in the world. This would simply be killing a figment of your own imagination. We've already proven that you don't deserve it, because you want to deny it in the case of our good president. If you want to kill his goose, then you deserve to have your goose choked till his golden eyeballs explode and his clutch of eggs is blown to smithereens. You don't deserve such a goose. His golden eggs should be given to intelligent people only.

* You have begun to use 'extortion' tactics against certain banks and corporations. Accusing the president of being an extortioner, is a serious charge. This needs facts and figures for support. But then again, it is doubtful whether you have experienced extortion? Therefore you cannot know what it is. "Ignorance is Bliss" must be "the pledge of allegiance" in the La-La land where you live!

* Your own political party shrinks from challenging you on your wild and irresponsible spending proposals. Another lie comes from the mouth of stupidity. President Obama's spending plans have all been approved by congress, by votes on both sides and by both parties. You are just plain lying. Of course, it must be because you have not experienced the political party? How can you know it? What does a party do when it is shrinking and challenging? The only party that you have experienced, and gotten to the core of, is the apparent drug party which has numbed and crippled your brain. There can be no other explanation.

* You will not openly listen to or even consider opposing points of view from intelligent people. This of course is another lie, but I can understand how Mr. Pritchett feels like that. The qualifications are clear. They must be "intelligent people". Mr. Pritchett is disqualified by his own qualifiers!

* You falsely believe that you are both omnipotent and omniscient. Throwing around assertions without proof is ridiculous. How do you know that this is a false belief? Prove it! If Obama has experienced it and knows it to the core, then he obviously is qualified to believe it. But you believe nonsense, and can prove none of it.

* You scare me because the media gives you a free pass on everything you do. Don't be scared of the president because of the media. That makes no sense at all. But then again, that fits right in with the entirety of your letter. The media is only trying to experience the Obama experience and enter into the core of it. Something you are too afraid to do.

* You demonize and want to silence the Limbaughs, Hannitys, O'Reillys, and Becks who offer opposing, conservative points of view. Demonize? What does that mean? How do you know what demonization is? Have you experienced it? Have you been possessed? Are you now possessed? You would have to be possessed to know about the core of demonization, wouldn't you? How about these people you have named? Have they entered into demonic possession also? Do they know all about it like you do? How do you know that they have points of view? What is a point of view? Can you have one without entering into the core of it? Who determines if it is opposing or not? Opposing to what? What do you mean conservative? Do you think that you are conservative? What is a conservative? How can you be a conservative when you are scared by everything in our constitutional democracy? The president scares you, the votes of congress baffles your mind, and you imagine false things about our governmental system, policy's and our elected officials. Is that what a conservative is? You live in a democracy, but you are sacred of our duly elected officials? Is that what conservative means? If our presidents were not elected by due process what would we do? Would we coronate them, and tell them that since they are omniscient and omnipotent they are ruling in a Theocracy? The fact that you think this way proves that you are as liberal as they come. Communism is nothing compared to outright stupidity.

You are no more conservative then the man in the moon. I'm a conservative, because I believe in, and support, our system and our president wholeheartedly. I'm a conservative because I believe what the Bible says, and it says that president Obama's heart is in the hand of the Lord. I'm a conservative because I know, and have entered into the core of, the realization that God is in charge and not Limbaugh, Hannity, O'Reilly, and Beck or you Mr. Pritchett. These people you have named are not conservatives. They may think they are, and they may usurp that title. But they are nothing more than sensationalists, extremists, radical extremists (like the people you mentioned earlier) and anarchists. They are just pandering to the stupidity of people like you, who would rather follow them, then use their own brains. A conservative loves his country. A conservative supports his president. A conservative prays for his president. A conservative understands that it is God who controls history, and not a political action agenda. A conservative speaks truth and facts, not mindless drivel calculated to entice without substance. A conservative gets on the radio and tells people why things need to happen the way that God ordains for them to happen, and not someone who believes that anarchy is OK as long as he's the one promoting it. If God ordains the outcome of a toss of dice (Proverbs 16: 33). He surely ordains the outcomes of our presidential elections. To say otherwise is to blaspheme the intelligence and omnipotence of God Himself. Don't expect me to be so stupid that I would believe that God would leave something so important to lunatics and morons. You, and your type of conservatives, lost the election, because God ordained it. Deal with it. Be a real conservative and a true patriot and support our wonderful, God ordained president. Anything less than support, confidence (not being scared of everything), and allegiance is a false conservatism and a false patriotism. It is a glorified lie. And I for one don't want to listen to it any more. You are an air head, and so are the Limbaughs, Hannitys, O'Reillys, and Becks who instigate insurrection, dissatisfaction, anti-patriotism and lies. I felt that it is time to speak, because I am not afraid to expose you now, or 8 years or 800 years. God is in control, not you! Praise the Lord for that.

Earl Jackson
